He said a document called “2017 Mill Levy Proposal Frequently Asked Questions and Answers” is available to any citizen with questions. The 16-page document discusses why the district is considering placing a mill levy proposal on the November 2017 ballot, what its biggest challenges are, what has the district done to reduce expenses while maintaining services, how the proceeds of the proposed mill levy would be allocated, projected effects of either not pursuing or passing a mill levy increase, and a lot of other background information. See www.tlmfire.org/mill-levy or click on “FAQ,” or call 481-3456 to obtain a printed copy.

Mill levy increase discussion continues

Truty said that the citizens advisory task force regarding a possible mill levy increase will have two more meetings left. After that, TLMFPD will make a decision about whether or not to put a measure on the ballot.

Agreement with Wescott FPD

Administrative Battalion Chief/Fire Marshal James Bumgarner said that as of April 3, the Donald Wescott Fire Protection District (DWFPD) would do automatic aid responses to calls only in the southern part of TLMFPD for level D and E level (life-threatening) calls. This agreement was reached to reduce the imbalance in the number of automatic aid calls between DWFPD and TLMFPD, and it appeared that so far, the plan was helping to balance the numbers. See www.ocn.me/v17f4.htm#tlmfpd.

Chief’s report

Truty’s report included:

- Three new TLMFPD firefighters will graduate from the training academy in Denver on May 19.
- The El Paso Board of County Commissioners will conduct a workshop on fire district impact fees on May 4 to establish a countrywide process. Fire chiefs attending the workshop have been asked to present reasons why those impact fees are justified.

Bumgarner said 23 homeowners’ associations had already signed up to send representatives to the Neighborhood Leadership Wildfire Day. He applauded the Mount Herman homeowners’ association for all the wildlife risk reduction work they have been doing in their neighborhood adjacent to the national forest.

The meeting adjourned at 7:47 p.m.

Meetings are usually held the fourth Wednesday of each month. The next meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. May 24 at TLMFPD Station 1, 18650 Highway 105. For information, contact Jennifer Martin at 719-484-0911. For upcoming agendas, see http://tlmfire.org/board-agendas-minutes.
